

G L B A L D O C T O R A L C O N S O R T I U M

Connecting for quality research related to online, open, flexible and technology enhanced learning.

Key Benefits for Doctoral Students

- A global network within the field of online, open, flexible and technology enhanced learning
- Free ICDE membership during the doctoral study period
- Invitation to attend the ICDE 2017 World Conference in Toronto
- Scholarship fund for travels

GLOBAL DOCTORAL CONSORTIUM

Connecting for quality research related to online, open, flexible and technology enhanced learning.

Is your institution offering doctoral programs? Are you currently enrolled as a doctoral student? Sign up for invitations to join the Global Doctoral Consortium!

The Global Doctoral Consortium in a Nutshell

The Global Doctoral Consortium (GDC) is a global initiative aiming to support doctoral students in the research field related to online, open, flexible and technology enhanced learning. GDC is a virtual network and knowledge hub that will support doctoral students in building relationships, collaborating and sharing research ideas. The GDC will provide insight in the research themes selected by its doctoral students and will foster collaboration and international engagement between institutions.

Founding Partners

Contact North | Contact Nord

Ontario's Distance Education & Training Network

جامعة حمدان بن محمد الذكية
Hamdan Bin Mohammed Smart University

Høgskolen
i Lillehammer
Lillehammer University College • hil.no

For more information and registration visit:

www.icde.org/gdc